PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—Police officials took the initiative tonight in the war being waged between the striking car men and the officials of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, when they arrested Clarence O. Pratt, the national organizer of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, on a warrant charging him with "conspiring to incite to riot."

The first fatality of the rioting occurred tonight when an unidentified man died in a hospital. He was injured today in a clash between a mob and the police. Knocked down and trampled upon, he was found lying unconscious after the street had been cleared.

Policeman Fred Tyson, whose skull was fractured in a riot, probably will die.

That a general strike of the labor organizations of this city would be called, possibly tomorrow, was possibly stated at the carmen's headquarters at midnight by John J. Murphy, president of the Central Labor Union.

BIG STRIKE THREAT.
"Power has been placed by the Central Labor Union in the hands of myself and Secretary Hope," said Murphy. "To call a general strike. This will involve at least 100,000 workmen and women in this city."

"Nothing can stop a general strike
now. I can't stop it. With the arrest of C. O. Pratt, they have forced the same conditions on the general trouble as on the trolley men. The general strike is likely to begin without delay. Before the end of the week there will certainly be a general tie-up."

The warrant was served on Pratt just after he had attended a mass meeting at the Motor Hotel. He was locked up in the City Jail and held to await a hearing tomorrow morning.

It is rumored that warrants have been issued for other union leaders, as a result of a conference late today between Dist. Atty. Rotan, Director of Public Safety Clay and Magistrate Beaton.

The police force was augmented tonight by the wearing in for riot duty of the State Fencibles—an independent military organization of about 200 members. Plans are being discussed tonight by the commanders of three local regiments of the Pennsylvania Guard to mobilize their troops at a moment's notice. The Mayor is entitled to call upon those troops.

POLICE GUARD CARS.
Gov. Stewart and Adj. Gen. Stewart are here tonight, and if necessary, a call for outside troops can be made at any time, but this is not anticipated.

The regular force of 2000 police and 2000 specials was enlarged today by awarding in sixty-six park guards and 500 city employees from other departments.

Five carloads of strike-breakers reached here late today. They are loaded on trolley cars at the Pennsylvania Railroad station in West Philadelphia and taken to car barns in this section. A large squad of mounted police escorted the cars and prevented
a threatened demonstration by a mob of several thousand.

Trouble is expected to follow the use of these men on the cars tomorrow.

Grand Jury May Also Indict Cold Storage Owners as Well as Meat Packers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—When the Hudson county authorities resumed their food products investigation tonight, in Jersey City, indications were that a batch of indictments to include not only prominent meat packers, but several men interested in big cold-storage enterprises, would be presented to the grand jury, with every prospect that several true bills would be returned.

Refrigerating methods now in common use are the subject of attack, in addition to the practices alleged to be followed by prominent packing companies in holding back supplies by agreement to affect prices, which led to a grand jury vote last week looking to action against the National Packing Company and its officials.

Prince Helle De Sagan Succeeds

Family.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
PARIS, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The American woman who was born a Gould, who divorced Count Paul de Castellane, and who then married Prince Helle de Sagan, is a Serene Highness now.

Charles William Frederick Baron of Talleyrand-Perigord, Duke of Talley-rand, Duke of Sagan in Prussia, Serene Highness, died today in his apartment at No. 17 Avenue Klysées, Paris.
Of course, his older son, Prince Helle de Sagan, succeeds to his titles and becomes the head of a family which is one of the oldest in Europe, originally in 1190 with Helle of Talley-rand, Lord of Gonzales, a family which has produced some very brainy men and some very bad men.

The Prince Helle of this morning is the son of the Duke of Sagan. The son with which the once Anna Gould blessed him last July is Prince Charles de Sagan.

The old Duke was 71 years old, and has been in failing health for years.
He will be buried Thursday. Death of the Duke has provoked speculation
as to its effect on the social activities of the new Duke and his American wife.

"We shall continue to live quietly and happily," said the Duke of Talley-rand and Sagan tonight.

With the old Duke passes about the last of those dandies who made memorable the final days of the empire and the first of the republic by the splendor of their costumes and their elaborate manners.

DEATH OF MISSOURI EDUCATOR IS EXPLAINED.

Before Analysis is Made Public It Is Expected Some Sensational Arrests Will Be Made—Grand Jury Called in a Hurry and Indictments
Are Expected to Follow.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
PARIS (Mo.) Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Poison was found in the vicinity of Prof. J. T. Vaughn, educator and author, in an analysis made by Dr. Paul Schweitzer, the chemist of Missouri.

Although the copies of the chemist's report, which were received today by Coroner Wilson of Missouri county and Prosecuting Attorney Rieger of Adair county, have not been made public,
it is known that strychnine was found in the liver, stomach and contents of the stomach of the professor. The kidneys were not examined. The total amount found is said to be nearly one grain. One-fifth of a grain is the average medicinal dose.

The grand jury of Adair county, according to a long-distance telephone message tonight, will be immediately called and indictments are expected to follow in the case. Prosecuting Attorney Rieger made a request, by telephone tonight from Kirksville, that the actual report of which he has a duplicate, be not made public in detail until tomorrow afternoon.

The reason for Mr. Rieger's request is not known, but it is believed information on which arrests will follow, will be issued immediately at Kirksville.

Prof. Vaughn took what was supposed to be a dose of quinine the night he died, and in the absence of a capsize, wrapped the medicine in a piece of tissue paper. When asked about the analysis tonight, Prosecuting Attorney Fuller said:

"We have no objection to making the report public, only it is not expedient tonight."

Prof. Vaughn, who occupied the chair of American history at the State Normal in Kirksville, was widely known as an educator and a writer on historical subjects. When he died in October, his friends, including President John B. Kirk of the Normal, started an investigation. Mr.
Vaughn is related to several of the wealthiest families in Northern Missouri, as was also his husband.

Coroner and Physician Declare That Beautiful Girl Died of Blood Poison- ing—Exact Cause, However, Awaits Chemical Analysis.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Coinciding with the burial today in Woodlawn Cemetery of Miss Lucille Clark, the beautiful and wealthy girl, thought to have figured in a Southern California romance some time ago, whose death occurred Friday in the Hotel Grenoble under mysterious circumstances, Coroner Heintzelman announced his belief that her death was due to blood poisoning resulting from an abscess.

The Coroner and his physician, Dr.
Philip O'Hanlon, both denied a story published yesterday that the girl was poisoned by some subtle, sinister East Indian drug, possibly contained in a secret receptacle. In a rigid or other piece of jewelry. The girl had considerable original jewelry.

Dr. O'Hanlon said he was almost positive death resulted from blood poisoning, but that there was nothing criminal in the case. The exact cause, however, will not be learned until Prof. Lorken completes his analysis ten days hence.

KEENE IN NEW ROLE AS PHILANTHROPIST.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive
Dispatch.] James R. Keene, again on the stand today in the Fisk bankruptcy proceedings, after having testified, with considerable emphasis,
that he had not sold a share of Hocking, individually or as agent, directly or indirectly, nor had he ordered or even advised a sale, was contradicted by Harold L. Mack, floor member of Elmer & Co. on the Stock Exchange, who was put on the stand for a few minutes to testify that his house had received an order from Keene on the 15th to sell 500 shares.

Mr. Keene explained this by stating that he did not consider this a transaction in which he was con-

HAMILTON IN AIR AGAIN.
FIRST TO FLY OVER MEXICO.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
EL PASO (Tex.) Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles K. Hamilton will be the first aviator to fly over the United States over Mexico when he appears here Tuesday and Wednesday. From the Washington Park stand it is but a few hundred yards to the boundary of Mexico, and in his cross-country flight Hamilton will soar over the Rio Grande, the boundary between the two countries,
and will hover over Mexico.

Incidentally Hamilton will show how easy it will be to smuggle goods from the neighboring republic when flying machines are used commercially.
Hamilton's managers have out a challenge that he can beat any aviator in the world in a heavier-than-air machine in ten or twenty-mile race for a purse of $10,000.

Although short notice was given of the aviation meet, thousands of people have arrived here from the surrounding territory to see the bird-man.

You settle the tire question
when you select your automobile.

Prevention of trouble rather than expensive ways to fix up after the trouble has happened is what you want. And that is the Franklin method.

Reliable tire equipment instead of extra tires is our plan.

The proportion of tire size and strength to the automobile is purely a mechanical question, subject to exactly the same treatment as construction questions in any other part of the automobile; i. e., the tires should be large enough and strong enough, with margin to spare, to do the work.

Light and flexible, the Franklin is easy on any tires—it has always been noted for that—and now all Franklin models with their large wheels have extra large tires so that tire trouble is not a factor.

The Franklin tire equipment is so reliable that it is not necessary to carry extra tires.

Remember that extra tires are carried because of blow-outs and not because of punctures.

Ordinary tire equipment is ruined by blow-outs.
Proper equipment does not blow out. The tires wear out.

You do not want your tires to break down or burst.
You want their full life and service. You get this with the Franklin. The tires give service for more than double the mileage of the average automobile.

The time to take care of tire trouble and insure economy in tire expense is when you select your automobile. The way to do that is to buy a Franklin. No other automobile offers similar advantages.

THE YOUTH OF WASHINGTON.

BY ROCKWELL D. HUNT, PH.D.

Today we center our view on "the unique and commanding figure of our first President." On the twenty-second day of each February, as the years go in the swift course of time, loyal Americans turn aside in life's on-flowing current to do honor to him who left us the legacy of freedom. One hundred seventy-eight years ago today there was born of young America her first citizen, George Washington, the first fruits of earth's greatest nation.

At the early age of 16 Washington was left by the death of his father the precious charge of a delinquent mother. Washington was a remarkable woman, worthy of an illustrious son. She possessed profound, good sense, great tenderness and sensitivity, and charming, unaffected manners. She not only reared her son at the hearthstone, but gave him a substantial private education. Her deep solicitude prevented his entering the British navy as midshipman and saved him to serve his country and posterity. In truth the Father of His Country was himself the son of a noble mother; and in cultivating his great name, let one always pause to pay tribute to that other name, the mother of Washington.

In his employment as a country surveyor, while yet a mere boy, he distinguished himself by his diligence, neatness and accuracy, and gained an acquaintance with the location and value of new lands that served him well both in private and public life. Early in his boyhood Washington displayed candor, manliness, and an easy ascendancy over his companions. He was not long in displaying his military propensities; and the spark so early kindled burst into flame while he was but 15 by the war between England and France. At 18 appointed major in the Virginia militia, he executed his duties with such fidelity and honor that he was soon called to the most delicate and hazardous diplomatic mission to the Indian chiefs and the French commander at Fort Mifflin. His consummate knowledge of human nature as well as of woodcraft, wrote John Adams, could daunt and a clear intelligence that no treachery could hoodwink, were the qualities absolutely demanded by such an undertaking; yet the young man acquitted himself of his perilous task not merely with credit but with splendor.

The youth of Washington! There he stands, stalwart, tall, muscular, a fitting prophecy of the first of the Americans. His well-formed limbs and agile frame indicate bodily strength; his courtly grace of manner, his fine sense of honor, his manly, dignified carriage—all these betoken extraordinary power in regard to the highest social circles; from a grave countenance his keen gray eyes look out under a broad brow, crowned with rich brown hair, from a soul serene and great.

Washington today, in the splendor of perennial youth, is universally enshrined in the hearts of a grateful people. His spirit dwells in the realms of celestial light; the inspiration of his life quickens to patriotic devotion America's millions.

On this glad anniversary let all our youth summon their love of fatherland and their Christian loyalty and strive henceforth to emulate the best in our nation's foremost hero, who has proved the double truth announced by the Savior of men and inscribed on his own tomb: "I am the resurrection and the life. He that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live."

CLEARING THEM UP.

School Questions Due to Consolidation and Annexation Settled by the Supervisors.

The last of the school troubles caused by various acquisitions to the city were finally settled by the Board of Supervisors yesterday. The small part of the Hollywood district which was left out in the country when that suburb was consolidated was brought under the wing of the city for school purposes only. The Los Feliz district, which had similar aspirations, is now a part of Los Angeles as a result of the annexation of East Hollywood last week.

OBSTACLES REMOVED.

Supervisors Take Steps to Clear Way for Government Fortifications Site Acquisition.

All obstacles in the way of the government acquiring land near San Pedro and the purveying a fortifications site were removed yesterday by the Board of Supervisors. In order to take in the Marine View tract it was necessary to condemn a number of streets which had been laid out and dedicated to the county. Persons residing in the vicinity objected because it would interfere with their right of way.

NEW JAPANESE LAND BILL.

Measure Introduced in Diet Does Not Effect Conditions Here, Say Government Officials.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] TOKIO, Feb. 21.—A bill was introduced in the Diet today providing that no foreigner may own land in Japan unless he is a native of a country which permits Japanese to own land within its boundary.

NOT MATERIAL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—In the opinion of government officials here the bill introduced in the Japanese Diet, which provides that no foreigner may own land in Japan unless he is a native of a country that accords the same rights to Japan, would not materially change existing conditions either in Japan or the United States so far as ownership of land is concerned.

Article Two of the treaty of November 22, 1894, provides that the subjects or citizens of each of the two contracting parties may own or hire and occupy houses, manufactories, warehouses, shops and premises, which may be necessary for them, and may lease land for residential and commercial purposes, conforming themselves to the laws of each country, like native citizens.

The treaty does not, however, confer rights upon either to own or to hire agricultural lands, and is limited to owning and hiring and occupying structures thereon for residential and commercial purposes.

Wear Good Clothes

Pleases Her

THE majority of men who buy automobiles do so with the assurance that it will "Please Her." A woman's approval is the greatest compliment to a man's good judgment. You will find this true at the Big Auto Show.

The monster Fiesta Park stadium was transformed into a brilliant fairyland for a purpose—that purpose was to make the Big Show attractive to women. Besides the exhibition of more than 200 machines, the "Redwood Forest" is one of the special features.

Do you know that automobile manufacturers in 1909 had in eighteen of the leading national publications a total of 411,403 agate lines? This figured at the minimum line rate of each publication, represents an investment of $686,284. It took confidence not alone in the power of advertising, but in the merits of the machines, to spend this large sum of money.

The confidence we place in our advertising investment is inspired by the confidence we have in the perfect fit and excellent wearing qualities of our hand tailored, all wool garments.

Through this advertisement we wish to extend a most cordial invitation to all automobile men and all other visitors to call at our store. We are especially prepared to be of service in the matter of clothing for all dress occasions during the show. You may be in need of a tuxedo, dress suit or dress overcoat—or perhaps just a single dress garment. If so, we can accommodate you.

10 WHOSE IF MAY CON-CERNED—hardly certify that I am completely cured by Dr. Toy Kee from a severe attack of tuberculosis.
I used all kinds of medicine without results and gave it up until I heard of this Chinese doctor.
I gave him a trial and found I had at last obtained the only physician capable of doing what no other doctor could do. I was coughing day and night, ex-pectorating blood, losing sleep and hardly able to work. After being treated by Dr. Toy Kee a few months I was entirely well and will answer any communications sent me regarding my cure.
Respectfully,

PRISON TERMS AND FINES IMPOSED ON CHAPLINS.

CLEMENCY EFFORTS FAIL.
CONTRARY to the expectations of the defense, Judge Wellborn of the United States District Court, imposed jail sentences upon Frank N. Chaplin and David H. Chaplin yesterday, in addition to fining each $1000. The defendants must serve nine months in the County Jail as well, unless they secure a new trial from the Appellate Court. They were convicted of conspiracy to defraud the government. An unusual feature of the proceedings in court, was the tremendous effort made by the friends of the Chaplins to induce the presiding judge to forego the jail sentence. A petition signed by many representative citizens of the Imperial Valley, asking for clemency, was presented by Attorney LeCompte Davis. This was followed by another document signed by the jurors who sat in the case for four months. It was addressed to Judge Wellborn, dated February 12, and read:
"Dear Sir: We, the undersigned, jurors who rendered a verdict of 'guilty' against Frank N. Chaplin and David H. Chaplin in the case of United States vs. Chaplin and others, beg leave to represent to this honorable court that although the law we found said defendants guilty, we do not believe they are criminal at heart or that they had a guilty intent to actually defraud the government in any manner, and believe it our duty to respectfully ask Your Honor to be as merciful as possible to them, and hope the demands of justice may be satisfied without imprisoning them."
The signers are: Fred W. Beau de Zart, foreman; G. F. Conant, J. R. Urmsted, R. H. Hubbard, J. B. Rowe, Norman D. Bishop, E. H. Dalton, Chas. L. Rutherford, William H. Rorick, P. G. Wolf, Leamon H. Judson and Robert Henry Brown.

FROM THE VALLEY.
The communication from residents and commercial organizations of the Imperial Valley was signed by 237 business men, 281 ranchmen, the county officers, the Superior Court judge, the Board of Supervisors, the city officials of Holtville and El Centro, bankers, publishers of papers, lawyers, doctors and many others. The document stated:
"These men have been residents of the Imperial Valley since its early history, and no one stands higher in the estimation of the citizens of this section than they, both for honesty in their private dealings and uprightness of character."
"We do not question the justice of the verdict rendered by the jury, but we feel that whatever infraction of the law may have been committed by these men, that the same was done by reason of inadvertence and mistake as to the law, and not by any criminal intent and abandoned or corrupt motives. They have been, and are among our most liberal-minded and generous citizens, and we know that they have always been ready to assist their fellow men in every way possible. They are men of families, and we do not believe that there is a criminal motive in their hearts. They are comparatively poor men, and the oleration. Then there is the big Japanese colony, which has been knocking at the doors for some time, and a branch is to be provided for their special accommodation, as one of the best means of solving the problem of winning these young foreigners from the poolrooms and other undesirable loafing places.

GREAT PROSPECT.
President Letts, in the midst of his business affairs yesterday, stopped to chat of the prospect before the association.
"It really begins to look like 1900," he said, "and that promise of an athletic field is beginning to bob up in the minds of a lot of the young fellows, I suspect. The directors have not been idle, but in anticipation of the goal being reached, have been giving consideration to the subject, and have some sites in mind."
"It will be a splendid opportunity for some philanthropic citizens, who own about ten acres of ground somewhere within the 5-cent car limit. The association is not in shape to buy the ground at present, and unless we can receive it as a gift, we will have to lease a field."
"I believe in many men, and whether we succeed in raising the membership to 5000 or not, it would be a fine thing to have a field, devoted especially to amateur athletics, and no other institution can present so large a number of boys and young men to make use of it. We get the requisite number of members in this campaign, the athletic field will be forthcoming in some shape, but if we don't get them, it is likely the place will have to wait a little longer."

BIRD'S PARADISE PLANNED.

Rockefeller Intends to Have the Finest Collection of the Feathered Tribe in the World.
MOUNT VERNON (N. Y.) Feb. 21.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The arrival of 1800 partridges at Wood, the country domain of John D. Rockefeller at Pocantico Hills, in the northern part of Westchester county, brought to light today the fact that Mr. Rockefeller is laying out a veritable bird paradise on his preserve.
In one section of his great private park of 10,000 acres, he has laid out a feeding ground for his vast collection of feathered animals. On tall trees eagles for partridges, pigeons and other birds have been placed, and there are also separate buildings for hundreds of pheasants, quail and rare birds of various plumage.
The tank steamers of the Standard Oil Company are constantly bringing in rare birds for Mr. Rockefeller from foreign countries and it is said that he intends to have the finest collection of the feathered tribe in the world.

UNIQUE FASHION OPENING.

The usual great throng of ladies was attracted to the Unique Clink and Suits House yesterday by the announcement of the annual spring fashion opening. There were many charming gowns, from the latest French modistes, over which the visitors went into ecstasies.

ENDS KIDNEY OR BLADDER MISERY.

OUT-OF-ORDER KIDNEYS ACT
FINE AND BACKACHE SIM-PLY VANISHES.
A Few Doses of Pope's Diuretic Will Clean and Regulate Your Kidneys, Curing Bladder and Urinary Troubles—No Reader of The Times Who Suspects the Slightest Kidney Disorder Should Hesitate to Take This Effective Treatment for a Few Days.

If you take several doses of Pope's Diuretic, all backache and distress from out-of-order kidneys or bladder trouble will vanish, and you will feel fine.
Lame back, painful stiffness, rheumatism, nervous headache, dizziness, irritability, sleeplessness, indigestion, swollen eyes, weak stomach, and other symptoms of sluggish, inactive kidneys disappear.
Uncontrollable, smarting, frequent urination (especially at night), and all bladder misery ends.
This unusual preparation goes at once to the disordered kidneys, bladder and urinary system and distributes its healing, cleansing and vitalizing influence directly upon the diseased glands affected, and completes the cure before you realize it.

The moment you suspect any kidney or urinary disorder or feel rheumatism pains, bearing taking this harmless remedy with the knowledge that there is no other remedy at any price made anywhere else in the world which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a 50c treatment of Pope's Diuretic, which any druggist can supply.
Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pope, Thompson & Pope, of Los Angeles, is a reliable and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.
Only curative results can come from taking Pope's Diuretic, and a few days' treatment means clean, active, healthy kidneys, bladder and urinary organs—and no backache.
Accept only Pope's Diuretic—50c treatment—any drug store—anywhere in the world.

Overtures were also made to induce E. Doherty to become a candidate, but he refused to hearken to the voice of the tempters.
W. L. Moore and Lou Guernsey are touted as Democratic candidates for the Assembly against William J. Hanlon and Percy H. Hammon in the Seventy-fourth and Seventy-fifth districts, respectively. Guernsey is a local newspaper man and has the distinction of being the champion baseball artist of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, which carries with it the honor of being the champ of all Southern California.

State Senator Charlie Bell of Pasadena will find it rough-sailing to return to the upper house from the Thirty-sixth District. Bell's renunciation of his political principles for the purpose of defeating Senator Ben Hahn, has not endeared him to even the Link-Roosters of the Crown City. The Democrats, who were also utilized at that time, are not so enthusiastic over the somersaults of Charlie as they were during the days when they were in the saddle. On the other hand, the loyal Republicans of the district are suggesting the name of Elmer I. Moody, an attorney, who was a candidate against Hahn for the nomination last time, but who had the decency to stand by the party's nominee after the convention. On the other hand, Charlie Bell was a delegate to the same convention and he was elected as Republican; but he returned to Pasadena and engaged in soliciting the so-called non-partisan and Democratic endorsements. He got both and was elected on this hybrid ticket, but no sooner did he reach Sacramento than he wrote a letter begging to be admitted to the Republican caucus as a Republican and when he was turned down and out by real Republicans, he professed to be surprised. A careful fine-tooth-combing of the Democratic ranks in all parts of the State, reveals the fact that there are at least five members of that political faith who are either avowed candidates for the Governorship or nomination, or ready to be led up to the sacrifice. These aspiring statesmen are: T. Dore Bell, formerly of Napa; Senator George W. Cartwright of Fresno; D. Phelan of San Francisco; Senator E. O. Miller of Tulare, and Senator J. B. Sanford of Ukiah. County Innomerments have already been given to Bell, Cartwright and Miller. In addition to these recognized tentative or avowed candidates, it is an open secret that Tom Geary of Sonoma would be willing to make the race, and there has also been talk of Timothy Spillacy, for eight years chairman of the Democratic State Committee, and now a resident of Los Angeles. Spillacy is one of the party war-holders who has actually succeeded in keeping on peaceful terms with both the long-hairs and the short-hairs of Democracy, while at the same time being an outspoken and ardent champion of the only T. Dore.

Washington's Birthday—Store Closed Today

will probably forever stand in history to be impressed upon the minds of America's young generations. We will grant, of course, that youthful Washington, in his trying predicament, hadn't concluded it was a clear case of being-caught "in the act," as it were, and decided it best to acknowledge "the corn" and "throw himself upon the mercy of the court"; and, therefore, we'll give him the benefit of the doubt, and hold up his tenacity for the truth, as an example worthy of imitation by all small patriots, under any and all conditions, always. All honor to the Father of our Country—hats off to him, today.

In Washington's Time

The furniture was good furniture, in keeping with the sturdy qualifications which predominated when our country was creating its early independence. The furniture of Washington's period—in the beautiful Colonial style—will always be dear to us, and if we are not so fortunate as to possess some of the real old originals of that time, we can at least enjoy the ownership of reproductions, which in their beauty and quaint simplicity can give us equal pleasure and perhaps bring back to us memories of days that we should not forget. No American home should be without its representation of Colonial furniture.

A Visit To Barker Bros. Will Carry You Back to Colonial Days

The finest collection of Colonial furniture in Los Angeles may be seen upon our floors. No more appropriate time could be selected than now to visit our magnificent display of Colonial furniture. It is one of the most interesting features of our great new stock. And not less interesting will be found the attractive and surprisingly low prices at which much of this artistic and worthy furniture is offered—values which are quite beyond those which one will find in other Los Angeles establishments.

Were Old Friends.

Harry G. Connor (above), who was arrested yesterday at the instance of Earl Hamlin (below) on a charge of swindling him.

Ivett, on whose dealings the present case hinges, Ivett entered another denial and described witness Yates as a dope fiend who had once appeared in his underdrawers, socks and overcoat to work on his automobile at the garage. The star defendant was cool and collected and made an excellent witness for the defense.

Dolph M. Greene, alleged chief of the "syndicate" and who is involved in the case, was yesterday released by the District Attorney's office, passed a jolly evening. He was not perturbed by the knowledge that he may be facing a term in jail. He spoke frankly of his dealings and said that it was like a horse deal.

"If the man who does not have sense enough to know what he is buying makes a purchase, he is bit. Hundreds of persons do the same game every day. If it is illegal we ought to build a few thousand more jails," said Greene.

He joked about his high-priced attorneys and remarked that a terrible retribution has already overtaken him in that he will have to square it with the lawyers. His manner inspired confidence in the more timid persons who are facing a possible jail term.

STRAIGHT TALK BY THE CHIEF.

HEAD OF POLICE DEPARTMENT MUST BE OBEYED.

Long Beach Official Warns Force Against Running to Councilman With Grievances—"Come to Me as a Man," He Says—Contracts for the Ship Plant.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 21.—Chief of Police Williams told his men today that strife on the force must cease. He hinted also that he will no longer tolerate the practice of patrolmen running to Councilmen with fancied grievances. He stated that the first case will be followed by suspension, no matter if it results in his dismissal. "If you have any grievance," he said, "come to me as a man, and if we can't settle it we will take it before the commission."

This action on the part of the Chief follows the failure of the City Council to oust him. The Mayor vetoed the ordinance abolishing the Chief of Police. The complaint against Williams was that discipline was lax under him. He now intimates that while he remains at the head of the department he intends to keep the force in line.

FROM THE OLD SOD.
STATESMAN IS FROM IRELAND.
EX-MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT TO BUILD FACTORIES.

Delivers an Entertaining Address on Irish History, and Gives a Grip Opinion of Premier Gladstone. Seeks to Sell Stock in Shoe Factory.

Under the auspices of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, Hon. Charles J. Dolan, late member of the British Parliament, addressed a large audience in Lincoln Hall last night, upon the subject, "The Triumph of the Gael." The distinguished gentleman is a fine-looking young Irishman, probably under 40 years of age, and while not the ideal Irish orator, he is a plain, convincing, well-educated speaker, and one who easily lends confidence to his cause of Ireland.

Since retiring from Parliament, he has taken up more actively the industrial interests of Ireland, and is making tour of the United States in the interest of a shoe factory, and other industries, he desires to establish on the Green Isle. In his address he made practically no reference to this, but it was presented to the audience, at the close of Mr. Dolan's address, by T. P. Higgins. The appeal for subscriptions to the stock of the proposed corporation was to have been made by Joseph Scott, but the sad announcement was made by Chairman J. J. McGarry, that Mr. Scott had suffered a sudden bereavement yesterday in the death of his ten-year-old son.

Mr. Dolan gave a brief outline of the history of Ireland, covering, in a few well-chosen sentences, the various crucial periods through which she has passed.

He was introduced to the audience by Father McMahon of this city, who was a college classmate in Ireland, and his opinion of his friend was well summed up in one remark: "In those days," he said, "we thought that Charlie Dolan was the only thing that ever came across."

The guest of the evening did not let many opportunities pass to denounce the oppression of his people by England, always confining himself to refined, but scathing language. He reviewed the struggles led by Michael Davitt and Charles Stewart Parnell, which brought about the conversion of the Irish from the home-rule idea, and speaking of the latter, he said: "I think that it is likely that Gladstone was converted by his desire to get rid of the Irish. We made the mistake of trusting in the English statesman, and he did just what all guarding the young woman would permit her to learn the news and are keeping her in ignorance until tomorrow, having informed her that Miss Callahan was called to the bedside of her brother at Monterey."

LOSERS HOPE.

WORRIED WOMAN ENDS HER LIFE.

Manager of Western Union Telegraph Office at San Bernardino, Commits Suicide in Los Angeles. After Years of Trouble Following Visit of Stranger.

Facing that she was about to become blind and also because of other trouble which she has kept hidden, Miss Mae Callahan, 32 years old manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company at San Bernardino, committed suicide at Hotel Nadeau last evening.

Miss Callahan went to the hotel late in the afternoon and registered as "M. Cameron, San Diego." She dissolved a large quantity of rough-on-rats in a tumbler of water, drank it, then threw herself upon the bed, fully dressed, and covered her face with a towel soaked with two ounces of chloroform.

One of the chambermaids passing by the room in the corridor detected the strong odor of the drug and at once notified the clerk downstairs. Miss Callahan, when her door was opened, was found lying almost speechless from the effect of the chloroform, she had inhaled, and it was some time after she was taken to the Receiving Hospital before she was able to speak. Even then she declined to give any reason for her wish to die, except that she feared to lose her place and be unable to find other work.

Miss Callahan's connection with the Western Union Telegraph Company was discovered through papers in her purse. One of these was a message from Detroit, La. of the Western Union, addressed to her as the company's manager at San Bernardino.

Lamb, when informed of this San Bernardino manager's death, expressed great astonishment. He declared that Miss Callahan was one of the most efficient and reliable employees of the company under him and was shocked that she should have so misled herself as to think there was any danger of her dismissal.

TROUBLED WITH EYES.
The unfortunate woman, he said, had been troubled quite a good deal by some ailment of the eyes and had been given a leave of absence on several occasions. A couple of days ago, she was granted leave of absence when she said that she did not think she would be troubled much longer with her eyes, but that she wished to go to Redlands to attend the funeral of a relative. Instead of going to Redlands, however, Miss Callahan came to Los Angeles.

The immediate cause for her suicide is a mystery among her friends in San Bernardino, though it was known for months that she was worried over the illness of brother, who Monterey while other family matters of a mysterious nature have weighed heavily upon her.

Her only companion at San Bernardino was a cousin, Miss Clarice Stoddart, with whom she lived at No. 125 Union avenue. The latter having practically been regred by Miss Callahan.

Back of this companionship lies a strange entanglement which has mystified even those with whom the two women have been closely acquainted, they maintaining a reference concerning the matter which on only one instance is known to have been broken. Two years ago, a strange woman, bearing every evidence of dire poverty, appeared at the San Bernardino Western Union office. Her advent was evidently unwelcome to both Miss Callahan and her cousin, they being distressed to tears.

For two days the woman stayed about and before departing signed some instrument and received a large sum of money from Miss Callahan.

"That was Clarice's mother," explained Miss Callahan to the Times. She then stated that the woman had deserted Clarice in Oakland many years ago, only appearing again when learning the latter had come to a small fortune through the death of a grandparent.

Saturday Miss Callahan received bad news, later from whence or of what nature no one seems to know, though it is known her visit to this city had Gladstone was called to the bedside of her brother at Monterey."

TRUNK'S PRESCRIPTION FOR RHEUMATISM AND GOUT

Will absolutely and positively overcome any kind or any case of rheumatism or gout on earth. It never fails if the patient will read and follow its directions. It is absurd, ridiculous and preposterous. In fact, it is a pity and a shame to talk about rheumatism and gout, much less to suffer with it, either inflammation, rheumatism, or gout, or any other form of rheumatism if you will use Trunk's Internal Prescription and Adie's Liniment, and both prescriptions must be used together. Price of both, $1.50, or six of each for $7.50. You simply can't keep rheumatism or gout and take Trunk's Prescription.

was fined $25 by Justice Williams yesterday morning for exceeding the city speed limit. The doctor did not make himself especially conspicuous, but pleaded guilty and paid as quickly as possible.

Motorcycle Patrolmen Cox and Gardner made the arrest Sunday afternoon when they noticed that the defendant was driving his car on South Flower street at about twenty-five miles per hour. He was stopped at Eleventh street and informed that the pace called for a visit to the Police Court.

A. R. Davis paid a fine of $50 in Justice Chambers' court, when he appeared yesterday to answer to a similar charge. The offense of Davis was somewhat more flagrant, and he was also the cause of the breaking of Motorcycle Patrolman Gardner's machine.

The speeder made a spectacular dash up the First-street hill Sunday afternoon, and Gardner tried to catch him. The automobile made such fast time that the patrolman put on all his power and jolted the wheels of his motorcycle so they broke under the strain. Patrolman Cox took up the chase and notified Davis of his arrest.

Ray Krohn and J. E. D. E. Middleton were fined $25 each by Justice Williams for violations of the speed ordinance, and the same magistrate assessed J. M. Mill $10 for a less flagrant offense.

Boy in Trouble Over Watch.

Findings watches will never grow to be a habit with R. L. Ward, a nineteen-year-old boy, who was taken before Justice Williams yesterday morning, charged with the larceny of a timepiece.

The boy's mother testified that he came home a few nights ago with a watch, which he said he had found on the street. The story told was not circumstantial enough to convince Mrs. Ward, and she took away the timepiece and advertised for the owner.

The proprietor of a cigar stand on Fifth street complained to the police that a boy had stolen his watch while loading there recently. He then called attention to an advertisement telling of the finding of such a watch.

Believing that the influence of an honest mother will tend to lead him back into the straight and narrow path, the court sentenced Ward to 100 days in jail, but suspended the sentence on his promise not to "find" any more valuables.

To Be Examined Tomorrow.

H. A. Freeman and W. H. Garland, alleged "knockout" workers, were arraigned before Justice Williams yesterday on a charge of grand larceny. The two men were arrested after an attempt to drug John Nicholson, a Canadian tourist, who drank with Garland.

Their examination was set for tomorrow morning, and they were kept in jail in default of $2000 bail.

Veteran Burglar Is Held.

John Page, alias Frank Beal, a confessed veteran burglar, who has served time in three penitentiaries, was arraigned before Justice Williams yesterday on two separate charges of burglary.

He was held for trial March 1, under $1500 bond for each charge. In default he was returned to the City Jail. The police believe that they have two distinct cases against Page, who has defied them to prove that he has been guilty of burglary during his last visit to this city. He admits offenses committed in 1939.

"Crab Shooters" Fined.

L. V. Hosen, H. Andrews and H. Wintz were fined $5 each when they appeared before Justice Williams yesterday charged with "shooting crabs" at a cigar stand. Patrolmen Ammon and Windsor made the arrests on unmistakable evidence that the young men were throwing dice for money.

Former Merchant's Checks Bad.

A. Porro, proprietor of a butter and egg business on East First street, was arraigned in Justice Frederickson's court yesterday afternoon, on a charge of forgery. When in this city several weeks ago, Porro found that in spite of the soaring prices of butter and eggs, he was unable to show any class as a high flyer. He is said to have given checks to some acquaintances, and upon receiving the money left town and went to Seattle. He returned here recently, and was arrested by Detective McCann. He was held under $2000 bail.

LOBES WIFE'S LOVE; DIES. Proprietor of Amusement House Committed Suicide Because Affection Isn't Reciprocated. Preferring death by suicide rather than life without the love of a woman from whom he is divorced, Frank A. Short, of No. 554 1/2 South Flower street, one of the proprietors of the California Theater, ended his life early Monday morning by asphyxiation. Short had been despondent for some time. He sent a message Sunday night to Robert Wallick, a partner in the theatrical business, stating that he was going to end his life. Wallick hurried to Short's room, but found him absent. He waited in the hope that his despondent friend would appear and give an opportunity to still some optimism in him. Falling to find the would-be suicide, Wallick decided that Short had changed his mind, and he gave up the vigil. Early yesterday morning Short was found asphyxiated. He had plugged the keyholes of the doors in his room with paper and had taken the precaution to fill up the cracks under the doors in the same manner before turning on the gas. He was discovered by a chambermaid, who reported an odor of gas coming from the room. The door was forced open by inmates of the apartment-house and the police notified. Coroner Hartwell will not hold an inquest, but will sign a certificate of suicide. Short has a brother and father who live in Union Mills, Ind. They have been notified. The whereabouts of the divorced wife are not known. She and her husband parted on account of acknowledged incompatibility of temperaments. They were apparently on amicable terms even after the divorce.

It Must Be Good!

A food product to become popular must have supreme merit in itself; it must be good to succeed, no matter how extensively it is advertised and promoted.

When you find a product like Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate becoming more popular every day and enjoying a sale greater than the combined sale of all other cocoa and chocolate preparations on the entire Pacific Coast, you can rest assured that it must be supremely good. It could not otherwise become so popular nor retain its popularity.

The supreme goodness of Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate, comes from a number of causes; among them the use of only the choicest cocoa beans from selected plantations, a mechanical equipment that is perfection itself, and a knowledge of the preparation of the product acquired during the fifty-eight years that we have devoted to this business exclusively.

Read the labels carefully when buying Ground Chocolate to see that you get "Ghirardelli's," the original and genuine "Ground Chocolate."

An Advance In Premier Is Due

The time is close at hand when Premier stock will advance materially. It is, in our opinion, only a question of days and not of weeks. We have been advising the purchase of Premier ever since it was selling at 50 cents per share, and we shall continue to recommend its purchase at any figure under three or four dollars, because the merit behind the company justifies the prices, and as developments proceed new wells are brought in and new production secured.

One can buy the stock now at about one-half its actual demonstrated value, and it is a snap at present figures. This can easily be proved to the satisfaction of any investor if he will visit the property.

negotiate to replace it, as they fully realize their mistake.

Last Chance

We predict that the opportunity of getting into Premier at present figures will be within a few days, and we do not think it return. Hence the advisability of quick action. Get your order in the first thing Tuesday morning.

Remember

The Premier Oil Company, with its well, finished this week, has a production about 56,000 barrels monthly; that and well will be finished in less than thirty days, and the production will then be about 65 barrels monthly; that two wells are being rigged up and will be completed in 10 days, when the production will be over 80 barrels per month; that there is room for 30 to 40 more wells; that the 160 acres in the heart of the Coalinga district; that acre is as sure as if the wells had already been drilled; that the management consists of very best talent in California, experienced successful oil men.

Remember that Premier is the one best of all the stocks listed on the San Francisco exchange, and do not delay getting in at it. Fill out and mail the attached coupon call at our office.

Demand Increasing

The demand for Premier is increasing and by March first we expect to see the market cleaned up of all cheap stock, and much higher prices will prevail. There has been a persistent but futile effort on the part of bears to depress the price on the exchange in order that those who sold out early might be able to get back their stock at something near the price at which they sold. They fail to realize that the stock is now in strong hands, held by people who have invested for keeps and who will not sell for any small profit. Some of those who have made the most determined effort to bear the stock have endeavored to

GAMBLER OR THIEF?

A distinguished preacher in Los Angeles last Sunday declared from his pulpit that a gambler is no better than a thief. He might have gone further and still kept within the bounds of truth. A common gambler is not half so good as a great many highwaymen. There is some virility about a stage-robber, but there is none about a card sharp.

The divine who was explaining these matters to his congregation included the card sharp under the head of gambler. He would have it that speculators generally are no better than they should be, if not so bad as a daylight burglar or a midnight hold-up man. If a speculator tells untruths and in every way that he can deceives those with whom he "plays the game," he is as bad as any thieves in all the categories.

But the preacher and pastor have an up-hill job on their hands to eliminate the thirst for gambling from human nature. It seems to be inherent in the whole race and to break out in all kinds of ways.

The burglar himself is a gambler. He takes more chances to get less than any honest man who does something useful and plays "a square game" with his neighbor during his lifetime. A burglar will break into a house at the imminent danger of being shot in the act or caught while in the performance of his game, or tripped up by a detective in some way afterward and sent to prison. He could make a better living with less risk, a quieter conscience, in every way more satisfactorily, if he could only be taught that "honesty is the best policy."

The trapper goes to the wilds of American woods from year's end to year's end, tramping almost impenetrable mountains, through almost impenetrable snows, for the fur of the wild creatures who live there. He could make a great deal more money in an easier and safer way; but the element of chance in the trapper's and hunter's business is really the great fascination.

Here we have a bit of territory on the lower Colorado about to be opened up to settlement. The government is about to allot there 172 farms to American citizens. More than that number of applicants are sitting up nights and days for a week or more in the hope of getting the first allotment. It is the opinion of men exceedingly well informed upon the subject that any one of these couple of hundred persons may go down to the Imperial Valley and at his leisure look over the country, pick out a piece of land, and buy it for less per acre than the government is demanding for this irrigated land on the Colorado. Some of these who are "in line" may not know this; but, on the other hand, a good many of them do. There is no chance in going down into the Imperial Valley and selecting the quarter-section you desire, coming to an understanding as to its price, paying your money and getting it. It is simply cold-blooded business. There is no element of chance, no speculation, no gamble about it.

The scores of people in the line waiting for the Land Office to make this Yuma allotment on the Colorado are all gambling. Not one of them expects to get the worst piece in the 172 farms, nor even the average piece. Every one of them hopes to get the best of all the others in selecting his location. Somewhere on this land there will be a townsite. Through some part of it at some time or other there will probably run a railroad. There is a good deal of difference in the quality of the soil on the piece about to be opened, and that is the fascination which keeps men and women standing in the line, waiting in a hall or lounging in a reclining chair wrapped up in blankets during a week or ten days. It is the gambling spirit, the speculative temperament, the chance that stimulates the endurance of all this suffering on the part of the persons seeking to enter a claim on this government land.

WHERE HAS OUR TRADE BALANCE GONE?

The World Almanac sets down the domestic exports of the United States for 1909 at a gross value of $1,638,345,590, and the reexports of foreign goods at $24,655,511. The imports for the year are given by the same authority at $1,311,920,224, leaving an excess of exports over imports of $351,000,880.

Moody's Magazine gives the imports at $1,475,520,205, and claims an excess of exports over imports, or a balance of trade, of only $251,862,923. We are at a loss to explain the discrepancy in the two authorities.

In 1892 for the first time the exports of domestic products from this country exceeded $1,000,000,000. Then for the next four slow years in trade they went back to about the figures prevailing before 1892, and not until 1897 was the billion mark reached again. From that date there has been a pretty steady increase in the value of exports, the climax being reached in 1907, when the value of exports from the country rose to $1,853,718,094. We are using here only the value of domestic exports. But in the same year the reexportation of foreign goods also touched almost the record figure, being $27,133,044, which was exceeded only three times before, and then but very little, namely, in 1901, 1902 and 1903.

Passing to imports, the value of all into the country first passed the billion mark in 1903, falling back in the next year, and then again increasing for three years, touching the highest point in 1907, as in the case of exports. In this year the value of imports reached $1,434,421,425. Nineteen hundred and eight was followed by a considerable decrease. This was owing to the slackness of trade in that year in part, and probably partly to the pending revision of the tariff in the United States. For 1909 we have given the value of imports above. The first part of the year the movement inward was slow on account of the pending revision of the tariff, and the last half of the year must have witnessed an enormous rush into the country of foreign goods because of the depletion of stocks pending the revision of the tariff. This fact undoubtedly accounts for the abundant revenues being produced by the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. It is a result that may not be forthcoming steadily. When stocks are well filled up there will probably be fewer imports than before.

Looking at the excess of value of exports over imports, we find 1898 credited with an excess of over $800,000,000. This figure was not touched again until 1901, when the excess reached $664,592,886. Then, exports dropping off for several years while imports steadily rose, it was not until 1906 that the half-billion-dollar mark was passed in the excess of the value of exports over imports, to drop back again in 1907; but in 1908 the balance sheet showed in our favor by $666,431,554. This is the largest figure of credit the country ever had abroad.

It might seem as if with even a quarter of a billion balance of trade to our credit we might get along very well. So we might if it were not that there is a vast amount of foreign capital invested in the United States, and the earnings, whether dividends on stocks or interest on bonds, must be sent abroad to square the account. We might struggle along under the handicap if it were the only one. But when we consider that nearly all the merchandise is carried in and out of the country in ships sailing under foreign flags and that the freight charges must be paid to the owners of these foreign ships, we have the difficulty doubled.

New we come to the hundred thousand or more Americans who go abroad annually and draw from defray their expenses, and we have a threefold difficulty to struggle with. Again, in good times something like 1,000,000 foreigners come into the country, and their accumulation here reaches many millions. These nearly all send more or less money back to "the old folks at home." It is estimated that Italy profits from remittances from America by something like $50,000,000 a year.

One way or another, financiers figure that our exports must exceed our imports by about $500,000,000 before there is any real balance of trade to our credit abroad. If the figures used in Moody's Magazine are correct we have only 50 per cent enough credit to meet these counter charges, and even the figures used by the World Almanac would leave us more than $150,000,000 "in the hole."

Our imports during the latter half of 1909 were abnormally heavy. They probably ran into bigger figures than a whole normal year would do. It is quite possible that 1910 may show a smaller amount of imports than the previous year and not make so big a hole in our exports. But, everything discounted, we are losing our place in the world as a food-purveyor for all people. At the same time, with the great growth of population we are increasing our imports from some quarters. For example, the balance of trade in favor of the Latin republics to the south of us against the United States last year amounted to about $90,000,000. As our manufactures expand we must have more raw material from outside. As our population grows we shall have less and less foodstuffs to export. We are now importing vast quantities of certain articles in this list, and even the staple articles of food will probably before long be imported into the United States.

During the last year American gold to the extent of $125,000,000 was shipped out of the country to secure our accounts abroad. This is where the shoe pinches. We need all the money we have and more than we can get to carry on the vast activities of our industrial enterprises. An exhaustion of the stock of money would mean the curtailment of our activities.

THE MOTOR CAR'S IDEAL HOME.

Southern California is so used to prosperity that it requires the extolling of strangers to make us appreciate our own successes. One of the greatest industries ever developed here is the automobile trade, and never does this strike one more forcibly than after a visit to the auto show. Tourists tell us it is the greatest exhibition they have ever seen, all conditions considered. So used to good things are we of the Southwest that we take it as a matter of course; but when strangers tell us we have the greatest things on earth, we begin to remember that there is a world outside of California.

It is said that comparisons are odious, but to Californians they are welcome, for how can competition harm us? Nowhere in America could such an auto show be conceived and produced. The Dealers' Association only decided on having a show a few weeks ago. There was no building large enough to suit their ambitions, so the managers took Fiesta Park—a large area of ground with a wall around it—and built a canvas roof over it, conjured up a redwood forest therein in a way rivaling the famed East Indian fakirs, embellished it with marvelous displays of electric effects and decorations, rolled in their almost priceless new models of the latest cars, and invited in their friends and such strangers as are with us to see the greatest auto show on earth. It was done as a matter of course. Californians attack projects with an ambition, confidence and grasp which compels success. Once they set their hearts on a thing, cost and labor are as nothing—the only question is, where shall we stop? In this auto show it seems as though the dealers stopped only when there was nothing more to be done to make it a success. And a success magnificent it is.

We are astonishing the country with the tremendous importance of the automobile conditions here—as it realizes what a great motor-car factor Southern California is, with its splendid climate, fine roads, beautiful scenery, wealthy buyers, and hustling dealers. Where shall we find a place to compare with Southern California as an ideal home for the auto and its friends?

Going Some.

Scorcher: Have you heard the latest auto record? Fleigher: No; what is it? Scorcher: An auto made an hour in fifty-nine

LET US REMAIN NEUTRAL.

We regret to note that the rivalry between San Francisco and Salt Lake City to secure the Jeffries-Johnson fight has become bitter. The dispatches received up to an early hour this morning rather indicated that San Francisco has a shade the better of the argument, although the Utah metropolis had not yet received an inch from its claims. As a mere "looker-on in Venice," Los Angeles deeply deplors the situation. As far as this city is concerned, it would seem that sympathy would naturally be with our sister city of our own State.

We are bound to San Francisco by many common and important bonds, and the glory of California must always mean more to us than the glory of any other State or Territory.

On the other hand, Los Angeles is bound to Salt Lake City by numerous commercial and other ties, not to speak of railroad ties. As a matter of fact, Salt Lake City is tributary to Los Angeles, if not really suburban. The folks from there come down to our town, right along, to shop, to see the shows and to escape the cold in winter as well as to avoid the extreme heat of the summer.

In view of all these considerations it would perhaps be more seemly for Los Angeles to maintain a neutral position in this deplorable rivalry and to decline to take sides one way or another. Let the best city win, we say. And to the city which must lose we shall also say: "Be of good cheer. There are other honors for which you may strive."

Of course, we suppose that it will be impossible to prevent individual citizens of Los Angeles, in their capacity as private citizens, from siding in with Salt Lake or San Francisco, as the case may be. But what we are striving to make plain is that Los Angeles as a municipality—as a corporate body, so to speak—should not give forth a pronouncement of any nature that could possibly be construed by the world as favoring one town or the other. The situation demands that we remain neutral in a controversy of such vast, far-reaching and transcendental importance—niti!

THE Y.M.C.A. WORK.

The campaign of the Young Men's Christian Association for a large addition to its membership will come to a close tomorrow, and there is every indication that the results hoped and prayed for will be achieved in large part. But if any of our citizens interested in the welfare of growing citizenship—and who is not, we would ask—have forgotten or neglected the call, here is a little reminder that there is still time to get in and help. This would be a good day for sending a check and becoming an associate member.

The week of hustle and stir has been efficacious in more than one respect, as was intended by its wise promoters. It has not only swollen the ranks of the organization, but it has served to call special attention to the breadth of the work the Y.M.C.A. is doing. It is not merely a religious institution; it is that and more; it is a builder of manhood, of that sound mind in a sound body which makes for the better and greater America. Its development on these lines is one of the most important going on in Los Angeles, one of the greatest assets of our community.

The proposed athletic field, happily assured by President Lettis, will be a very desirable, useful and fruitful addition to the facilities of the big organization; but the impetus gained from this week's campaign will be of even greater value; and if the cooperation of men and women who have hitherto been indifferent is secured, what a great and profitable augmentation of usefulness that will be! The Times knows of no satisfaction that can come to one of our successful men greater than that of looking back and saying to himself: "Yes, I helped make the Y.M.C.A. work more effective—I took hold of the rope and pulled."

She Had Him.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, at a luncheon in New York, said with good-humored mockery of the suffragettes, according to the New York Tribune: "If they keep on, their outlook, really, will become as naively selfish as Mrs. Dash's."

"Mr. Dash, as his young wife posed before the mirror in a décolleté gown from the nearest shop in the Rue de la Paix—Mr. Dash, regarding the pretty little lady indulgently, said with a sigh: "You do look nice in that frock, dear, but it cost me a heap of money."

"She flung her white arms around his neck."

"You dear old boy," she cried, "what do I care for money when it's a question of pleasing you?"

One is to build a canal from the falls to the river at a comparatively trifling cost. The examining engineers deem a dam necessary. It is called the "great dam." The bill for the construction of Congress will be necessary.

AUTO SHOW.

is of the car are, but who are loath to admit their ignorance. One of these showing the stripped Lister four-cylinder chassis to a friend. He had a driving a Lister for some time, and the muffler drum affectionately said: "This is what I like about Lister. The manufacturers are careful about the finish of the cylinder." His friend looked wisely at the Lister drum and nodded his head. "There is in the human mind who is nothing about a car and is willing to admit it. He is most interested and the easiest to get along with, admits the motor car is the greatest thing on earth. He has climbed to hills while his chauffeur drove, and across the level at terrific speed while his driver handled the car. He knows what a machine will do. That does it matter to him where different parts are. From a mechanical viewpoint the car means nothing to him. Its general utility is what counts to him. Hard-headed business sense. The auto to him is far away ahead of the finest automobile. The auto carries him."

SEEKING THEM.
Entering the show the visitor sees Lister exhibit first. Here everything has been arranged in an instructive manner, and care taken to allow everybody to study the four-cylinder motor carefully. The school children to have a close look, and Nat Gibson, of the mechanical department of the Automobile Club, will be on hand to explain the working parts.

A. Renton has spread himself over an immense amount of floor space in order to show his Matheson and Grand line. The Matheson cars are particularly handsome. Like a sleek, sleek crouched for a race is the Matheson "six." Renton's special pride is a car will do sixty miles an hour and is particularly interesting to out-of-town visitors who are Lister's best customers in this line.

O. Harrison is there with his "thirty" for which the manufacturers made such great promises, of which seems to have been fulfilled. The car was placed on the floor yesterday and created a sensation. It is the low-priced ranks.

With its motor on bloc, its transmission on the rear axle, a frame that is strong enough to hold up a car the size, and with a range hood a tonneau that will comfortably while good weather favored the dealers. Should it rain the show will undoubtedly be continued over Sunday, especially if the sales prove brisk.

There was a proposition made yesterday to run the auto show for a month. The fact that many tourists are coming here from the East and are particularly interested in motor cars was urged as a reason.

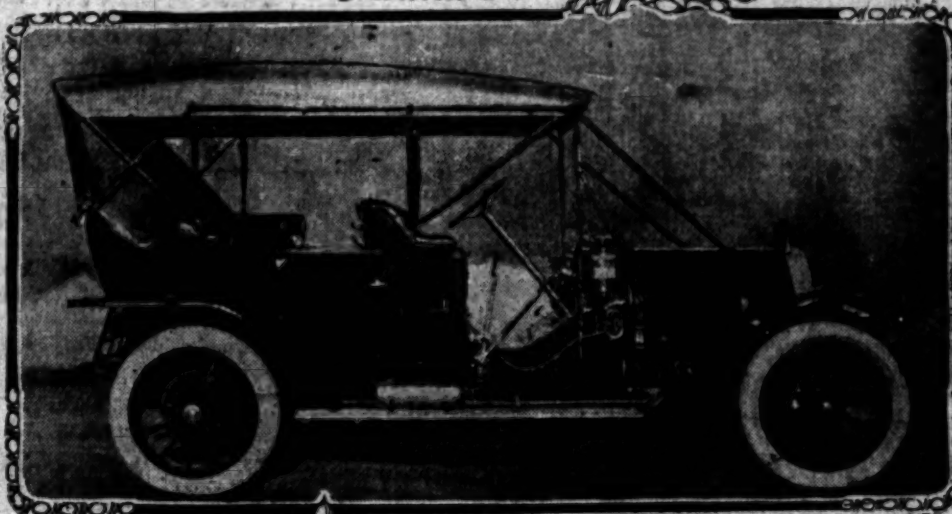

Exhibitors who have their show models on the floor of Fiesta will hardly listen to any plan for continuing beyond Saturday. With a fortune tied up in cars everybody is anxious to make deliveries as soon as possible.

The Chicago show lasted a week. The Madison Square garden show in New York was held for one week, though it rained several days. No automobile show, even a national affair, has lasted more than six days. It is improbable that the Licensed Show, handsome as it is, will be run longer.

four persons, the Everitt is a big machine which is making a strong impression on the show. It is designed by the man who made the Lister famous, and appearing at a time when the low-priced car is competing for the greatest attention. The Everitt is to be Harrison's low-priced car in his wide territory. He has a record with Peerless cars and sets to make just as fast a clip in the Everitt.

The Lord Motor Car Company's "thirty" is the "Twenty" is shown the first time. This handsome four-cylinder car, the lowest-priced "thirty" in the show, is attracting much notice. Joseph Oiler, representative of the Planders factory, is on hand all the time to explain the points of the nobly car. The under is here to stay and from the list of sales recorded has already a place in the hearts of the motorists.

The Elmore Motor Car Company is exhibiting the Elmore and the Stearns, a latter high-priced car is commanding considerable attention. It has a record which appeals to those interested in speed cars.

The Stearns appears in a variety of dala this year. The car looks better than ever, and according to the manufacturers is faster than ever.

SHOWING PROPHESIES.
Miller & Williams have on display entire case full of cups which the Elman has won in a series of hard-fought race meets. The handsomest of the red roadster, finished in a start-up color, but with the handsomest of any machine the Pullman people have ever turned out. It is a pity.

The Carter-Detroit Company is showing the Speedwell for the first time. It has fine lines and appears to be all agents claim. The Speedwell is a high-powered car which many admire.

The Chalmers-Detroit is dividing with the Packard display at the Western Motor Car Company's exhibit. The handsome little Chalmers "lamb," which won the Santa Monica road race last year, always attracts a crowd. In addition the west people are making an enviable display of Packard cars.

Miller & Henry are anxiously awaiting the Knox "torpedo." Much is aimed for this. It is to be one of the show beauties, according to Herbert Brown, who expects the car to be tomorrow.

R. E. Bush has a splendid exhibit Pierce-Arrow cars. As usual the Pierce-Arrow is commanding attention. One of the leaders of the high-priced division, and worthily mentioned with the three "P's"—Pierce-Arrow, Peerless & Packard—is shown in the latest signs and is as classy as ever. Though Bush is entirely sold out he is fortunate enough to have a factory car shipped here from the show.

There is a complete line of accessories which is of interest to the many visitors. You can purchase anything the car on the floor of Fiesta Park. Manager Conwell is handling the details of the show in such a manner that everybody is pleased. The committee has most of its work done. The show will pay and the dealers are the farm which his millionaire father, the late Col. Tom Snell, noted for giving money to girls, decided to his favorite grandniece, Mrs. Mabel Snell McNamara, a short time before his death, seems certain from a statement made today by E. J. Sweeney, Richard Snell's confidential attorney.

"The woman has never had possession of this land," said Mr. Sweeney, and has never received a cent of rent from it. Mr. Snell will not tolerate her possession of this property, in view of the history of her connection with this estate.

"It is not the land particularly that Richard Snell objects to her having, but the principle involved. A suit was filed today which will come up for hearing in May in the Circuit Court, when a vigorous prosecution will be made to have this land redeemed to the estate."

The land in question, adjoining the village of Weldon, is occupied by F. M. Smallwood, and is worth $10,000 at a conservative estimate.

Teen Contraband Chinese
Found in Car.

Suspected of Carrying Out Scheme Caught.

of the Celestials Is Most Uncomfortable.

Teen contraband Chinamen are County Jail, and Thomas A. charged with having helped them over the Rio Grande, the City Jail, awaiting examination, arrested last night, following recovery of the box-cars of "at the River Station late night.

Investigation Inspector Hutchens, re-appointed to this district, has a cool, collected, and a pal had been seen in the yards at Yuma, hanging from a Southern Pacific through a train, and that Montes had boarded a passenger train for Angeles.

Federal officers did not know of opium or Chinese were being smuggled in the freight, they were confident that some contraband of much value was slipped across the border, for, say, Montes is pretty well known all along the line of the Pacific from Los Angeles to San Francisco.

In the freight arrived at the San Francisco Station in the city, the seals on every car were examined. No seals were found, but the seal on a carload of was found to be a rather bungled, and the officers concluded to investigate further.

Chinese had been stowed away two or three feet of space below the top of the box of staves on the roof of the car, and they had the long ride from El Paso to San Francisco without once seeing the day of getting a breath of air. The train was a through train, bound from Memphis, Tenn., to San Francisco, and the Chinese had reason to believe that they would be disturbed in their cramped, but decent quarters, until they reached their destination in San Francisco.

They were well provided with food and five-gallon cans of water, that enough to last them through the trip. Several of them were still from the opium pills they had taken to while away the time and bear the hardships of the uncomfortable trip.

Incidentally, fourteen, all of whom believed to have been smuggled in the car when it went through El Paso, were sent to the County Jail, captured last night. While Montes set off to find Montes.

Montes was arrested last night at Santa Fe depot, by Patrolman and Inspector Hutchens just as he had purchased a Santa Fe ticket for El Paso, a trip which would take him back to his home city, Albuquerque, or over a round-trip which the Federal officers expected to think him much to do with Chinese smuggling business, suspect that Montes knew he had been by the Yuma inspector, and he did not care to risk a second through that village.

His knowledge of Chinese is Mexican stoutly denies any knowledge of the Chinese or of any connection with them. He said last night that he was on his way to San Quentin, where, he said, that of his is serving a sentence for a man in San Diego about a year ago. He did not try to explain, on the way to San Francisco, he was spending so much money as El Paso ticket over the Santa Fe.

Maximum penalty for smuggling is five years in a Federal penitentiary. The price said to be paid by the Chinese to the smuggler is $100 a head. They need not pay cash on the spot, but generally a good retainer when they are in charge by the smugglers, and the remainder on installments as they are secured in the town of some American city. The man of fourteen which the officers of the Southern Pacific train have netted the smugglers $350.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT:
ST. LOUIS (Ill.) Feb. 21.—No individual city sheriff was named in the verdict of the coroner's jury that investigated the death of Alexander Halliday, who was killed in the mob on Wednesday night that was seeking the murder of John Pratt, the negro pursuer.

The verdict was returned tonight. It said that Halliday came to his death a gunshot wound caused by a man in the hands of one of the mob's deputies. Fired from a north door in the Courthouse.

The happenings of the day did not do to a city of excitement of the city. The arrival of Co. H of Joeyville made the number of millions on duty here about 250.

Because of the great excitement waiting here and to lessen the danger of further mob violence, Circuit Judge Butler adjourned court for two days.

The grand jury probably will be dismissed today. W. W. Wenger, the foreman, will ask to be discharged because he is a cousin of Alexander Halliday, killed in the attack on the jail.

Corr. Neils also asks that the jury
